Get Twiggy With It

Pre-postmod production is a howl

By Robrt L. Pela

Those of us who still own a pair of white patent-leatherette ankle boots -- and still rock them like they are the newest, hottest thing -- are in luck this month: SHOUT! The Mod Musical is here. Straight from New York, the performance brings with it the Twiggy-inspired fashions and herky-jerky dance moves (Shy Tuna, anyone?) that made the Mod movement so fun, and also so embarrassing -- a truth that SHOUT! authors Phillip George and David Lowenstein have embraced here. The two make no attempt to take seriously Mod's defining fashions, so the choo-choo hats, giant sunglasses, and long-sleeved minidresses are presented with a wink and a nudge, either because they once wore these costumes or because they want to goof on them. And while the sublime musicality of such as Dusty Springfield and Shirley Bassey are celebrated, so, too, are the questionable artistry of such as Pet Clark and Herman's Hermits. Groovy, okay?

Date/Time: Every week Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday from Tue., March 6 until Thu., March 15, 7:30pm
